Prominent Citizen Is Summoned

Owen Marshall, Aged 73, Passes Away at Home on East Main St. Tuesday

With the death of Owen Marshall, aged 73, which occurred Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the family home on East Main street, Coshocton has lost one of her best known and most highly respected citizens. Mr. Marshall had been in failing health suffering from a complication of diseases for the past four years but four weeks ago his condition became so critical that it was evident that his struggle with death was to prove a losing one. In spite of all that could be done for him he failed steadily until the end came Tuesday afternoon.

Native of Coshocton Co.

Owen Marshall was born near Tyron, Coshocton county on December 22, 1840. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Marshall pioneer settlers of the county. In the summer of 1864 Owen Marshall went west where he settled on a homestead claim near the present town of Greenwood, Nebraska. With the exception of frequent visits to his old home in Ohio he continued to live in Nebraska until 1895 when he returned to Coshocton where he had since resided.

Surviving Relatives.

Mr. Marshall was twice married. His first wife, Barbara Ellen Mas-

A physician was summoned and the fracture reduced.

Keene Fire Loss Not Serious One

The Keene township hall and school house were completely destroyed Monday night when fire resulting from a bolt of lightning which struck the school house gained remarkable headway and soon spread to the town hall nearby. The extent of the damage could not be reported fully in Tuesday Morning's Tribune but it develops that the people of Keene are not inconsolable regarding their loss as both buildings were to have been razed in the near future to make way for the new school house and public hall to be erected on the same site.

It is understood that the insurance on the school building and contents amounted to $1500 and that on the town hall to $500. The amount of insurance on the two

Political Scheme Is Being Hatched

Mayor Bud, With Aid of Erstwhile Bitter Enemy Joe McDowell, Seeks to Gain Control of Democratic Executive Committee

The recent appointment of Dr. H. R. McCurdy as a member of the board of review without the formality of an endorsement by the Democratic county executive committee, has started a scrap which may have far-reaching results. In fact, this same controversy among various members of the committee has already produced surprising results, not the least of which is the burying of the hatchet by the forces of Mayor Caspary and Ex-prosecutor Joe McDowell. Where only a few short weeks ago, Bud and Joe were sworn enemies, they are now working in double harness (politically speaking) just as if they had never taken a delight in knife-ing each other.

There's A Reason.

As the breakfast table man says "There's a reason." Naturally when two such wily quonshoe artists get together, there is an end to be gained. As to Mayor Bud, it is a well known fact that he has hoped and prayed for the past two years, to get the control of the Democratic executive committee, with the view of grabbing the post office plumb. As for Joe, he had hoped to land Farley Connerty the plumb on the board of review, which fell in-

G. Hottman Passes Away in New Jersey

Coshocton relatives yesterday received the announcement of the death of George Hottman of Painesville, N. J. formerly of Coshocton. For fifteen years Mr. Hottman was employed as an artist at the American Art Works but five years ago the family moved to Painesville, N. J. where they have since resided.

Mrs. E. J. Kirk of Wilson Avenue is a sister-in-law and the only relative in Coshocton. Mr. Hottman was a respected member of the local lodge of Masons and Knights of Pythias and has many friends here who will be grieved to learn of his death.

For several years previous to his death Mr. Hottman suffered from locomotor ataxia and the news of his death was not altogether unexpected.

Burial will take place Thursday afternoon from the late home in Painesville.

Two Huge Black Snakes Killed

Sunday was a "sorry day" for black snakes on Conesville Route 2. At the noon hour Mrs. Allen Webb found a large black snake near the coop where she had a number of small chickens. With the assistance of her father, she despatched the reptile and it was found to measure 5 ft. 7 in. in length. Five minutes later another huge black snake created a disturbance in the chicken yard and it, too, was killed adding five feet more to the snake story which may be told with considerable pride by Mrs. Webb and her father, the heroes of the occasion.

Traps 39 Rats in Single Night

Vandergrift, Pa., June 27. —Clarence Bowman has established a record by trapping 39 rats in one night. Procuring an iron tub, he placed it in one of their favorite haunts and partly filled it with bran, liberally feeding the rats for a few days. After a few nights, Bowman half filled the tub with water and scattered a liberal layer of bran over this. The next morning he found the tub black with drowned rats.

Following an alleged sensational elopement to Newark with Millie Thomas, one of the women arrested in connection with the burglarizing of the Barnes beer cooler, Charles Hughes was arrested in Zanesville Tuesday by the chief of police of that city and brought to this city by Probation Officer Brunskill on the charge of failing to support an 11-months old child.

He was arraigned before Probate Judge Ashman Tuesday afternoon but showed a disposition to become "flip" and was taken back to the county jail to be calmed down.

Hughes is said to have disappeared with the Thomas woman several weeks ago and after taking her to Newark left her with other "friends." He went to Zanesville where he obtained work in a tile factory and is said to have found another affinity upon whom he bestowed his fickle attentions until placed under arrest.

After Pleading Guilty to Theft Charge Jenkins Woman Refuses to Hold Tongue in Court—Must Serve Two Years in Pen

To learn that the will of the court is of more import than the will of a criminal Mary Jenkins will spend the next two years in the Ohio penitentiary on the charge of larceny and burglary. She was sentenced with Adam and Harrison Potter, the former drawing a sentence of 3 years and the latter 2 years in the penitentiary, Monday afternoon by Judge Hanna. Her sentence was first suspended and while the court directed her how she should conduct herself while on probation Prosecutor Klein asked that she be charged to remain away from Mrs. Adam Potter. "She will have to let me alone first," said Mary. "Please change the entry," said the judge to the clerk of courts. "She will serve her sentence."

Lease Is Held Legal by Court

In the case of Jane Elliott vs. Frank Dunlavey, Judge Hanna ordered Tuesday afternoon that each party to the case pay half the costs and decided that the old lease on the land be held legal.

The plaintiff alleged that in consideration of paying rent, payment of taxes and boarding her the defendant was to have charge of her farm. She alleged that the contract had not been lived up to by the defendant and prayed for back rent and the cancellation of the agreement.

The case of the People's Banking Co. vs. C. R. Bell, assignee of the Coshocton Auto Co., was heard Tuesday afternoon after which court was adjourned.

Await Word from Parents of Victim

The body of Lawrence Horn of Gregory, South Dakota, who was drowned Monday while bathing in Owl Creek, was removed to the home of the boy's uncle Walter Barker of Knox county. Relatives are awaiting word from the boy's parents in South Dakota. It is probable, however, that burial will take place in the Millwood cemetery as other relatives are buried there.

The parents in South Dakota will probably come to Ohio at once on receiving word of the lad's death.

TO THE WORKS.
Harry Urban was taken to the Canton work house Tuesday morning to serve a four months sentence given him by Squire Abbott on the charge of beating a board bill at the Farmer's hotel.

Leech Home Near Keene Is Struck by Lightning

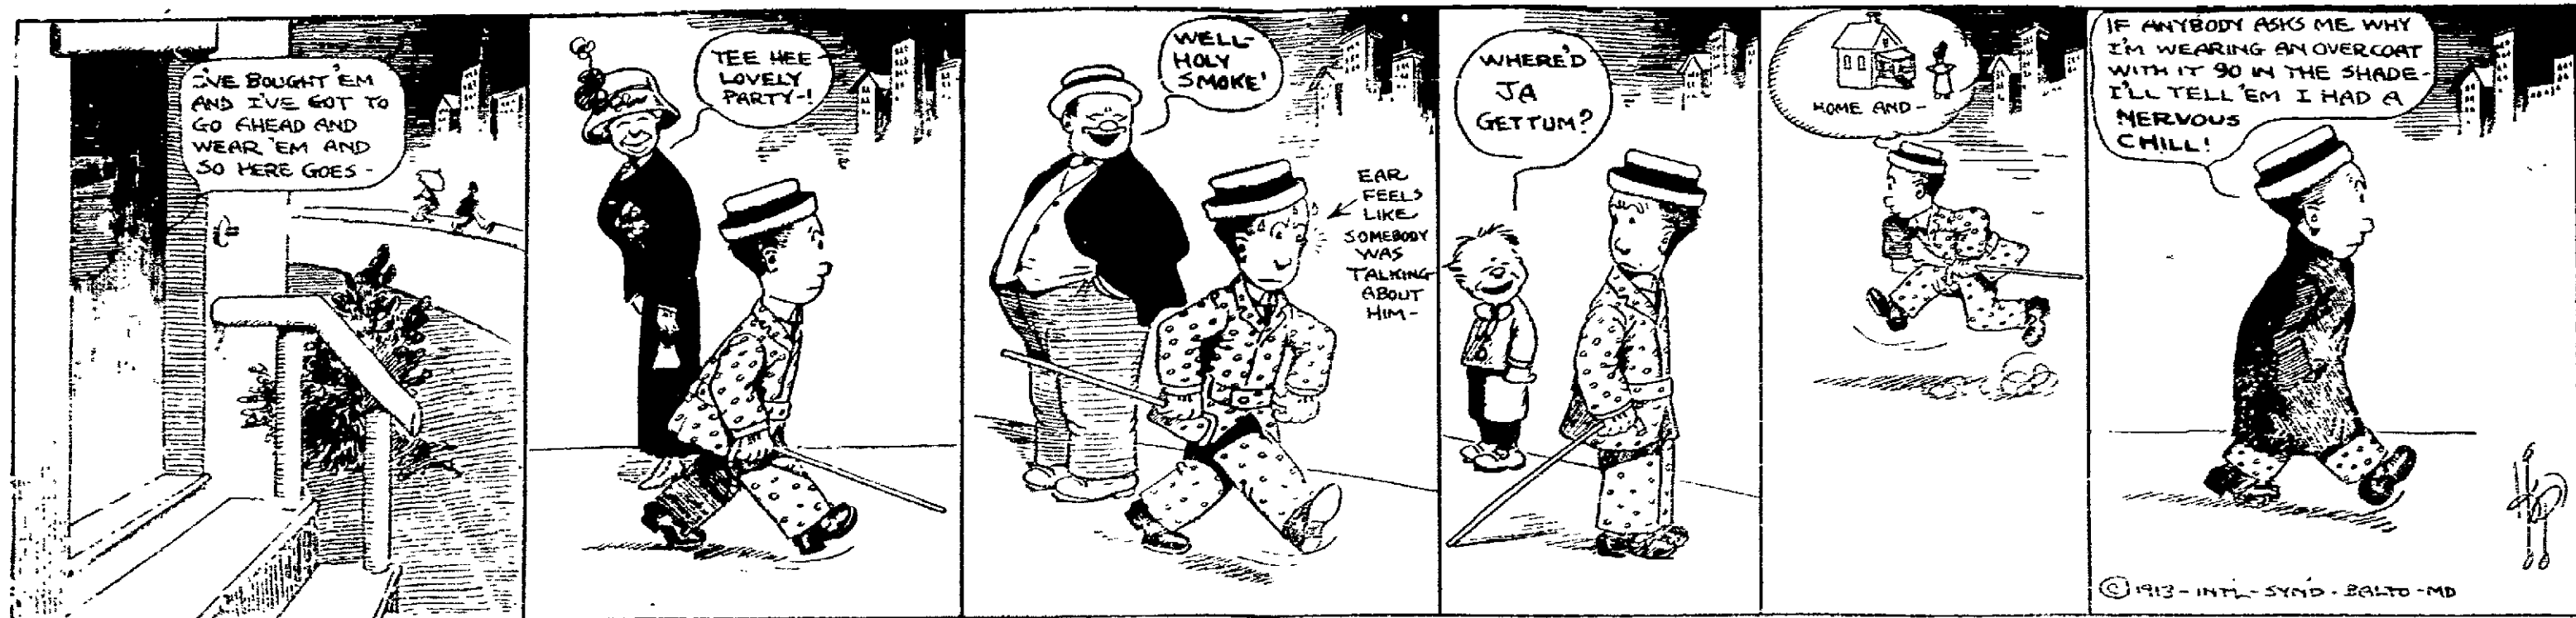

The residence of Thomas Leech, jury, two and one-half miles south of Keene was struck by lightning during the storm that swept the county early Monday evening. The spouting was ripped from the house in one place, a door jamb was thrown out of plumb and other minor damage resulted, but fortunately the members of the household all escaped serious injury. At the time the lightning struck the house members of the family were engaged in watching the fire at Keene. For a time their attention was diverted as it seemed that another conflagration was to be added to the havoc wrought by the storm. Much smoke but no fire followed the lightning's work at the Leech home and the dam-household all escaped serious injury will be easily repaired.

RECORDS INCOMPLETE.

Deplorable Condition Said to Prevail in Pickaway County Courthouse. Circleville, O., June 17.—Strong criticisms are expected from the state bureau of accounting when the report on the probate court of Pickaway county is filed during the present week.

When the examiners were here at work it was discovered that many of the records have not been maintained since 1908 and that others since that date have been so incomplete that they are almost useless. The same situation was found for three years prior, and the office was the subject of criticism each year. This year the investigation of the records was more vigorous, and the examiner asked many questions as to why the work had not been done after three times being called to their attention.

It is said the marriage license records, the daily journal and the various dockets are so incomplete that no idea of the business handled in the courts may be had from them. There has been a vast amount of important business handled in the probate court during the period covered by the faulty records, and the rumor that the records were incomplete or missing has caused many attorneys to investigate the records of cases they were interested in.

Section Hand Pushed From Handcar During Fight. Lima, O., June 17.—One foreigner is dead and several others were injured in a pitched battle aboard a Chicago & Erie flat car en route from Westminister to Lima. Frank Namazi, 25, died at a hospital after both legs had been amputated.

Colonel Goethals will make these recommendations from time to time. Mr. Garrison is not in any hurry, as he and the president are agreed that the reorganization shall not be put into effect until Jan. 1, 1915. The operating force is needed for the months prior to the reorganization of the canal zone. The reorganization of the canal zone was passed through the war department and organized by executive order.

White Slave Put Away.

Columbus, O., June 17.—Frank Runzo will serve three years in the Moundsville, W. Va., prison for confessed violation of the Mann act, in which he transported 17-year-old Hattie Hall Lyons from New Cumberland, W. Va., to Steubenville, O., and kept her there in involuntary confinement for alleged immoral purposes. He was sentenced by Judge Sater in federal court here after the girl had told her story. Bessie Volpe of Steubenville, indicted on the same charge, was released by the court. She aided the government authorities.

DO YOU GRAVE DIRT?

Many normal children grave sand. Who is there who has not seen a child pick up a cake of almost pure sand and munch on it with apparent satisfaction until a horrified parent or other guardian rushed up and snatched the delicacy (?) from it?

Chickens and, possibly all fowls, seem to require regularly an admixture of sand and gravel with their food. Fanciers declare that dogs, too, are better off when they eat their food directly from the ground. In fact, all animals seem to prefer to eat from that most primitive of all tables—the ground.

Cattle and even horses, will frequently drink from the sandy, muddy pools at the foot of a trough rather than from the clear, sparkling spring water the trough contains. The "po" white trash of the South used to be described as "clay eaters." And it was to their fighting propensities that we get our description of those who refused the enticing cake of clay as lacking "sand in their craws."

These observations lead up to the possibilities of wisdom in the statement of an employee in the house of representatives in Washington who declares that he eats a teaspoonful of sand after each meal and thereby has cured himself of a chronic case of indigestion and general stomach trouble.

He is now upward of seventy years old, enjoys vigorous health and is at his post of house doorkeeper every day. He says years ago his life was despaired of as the result of chronic stomach disorders and that no drug that the physicians ever administered to him brought the least relief. He attributes his cure and permanent good health to his spoonful of sand eaten regularly after meals.

The Tribune is not recommending a diet of sand. We do not even vouch for the truthfulness of the above incident which was carried as a Washington news dispatch the other day. If any who read this are induced to try the sand cure we would suggest that a reputable physician be first consulted.

It is said that our barbarian ancestors ate clay and sand regularly. But if this is true it has been so many centuries ago that what may have been a necessity for them might be a positive injury to us. But that an ancestral trait may still lurk in us to "eat dirt" is partly substantiated in the craving that many children undoubtedly have, if not actually to eat it, at least to adorn their exteriors with as profusely as they can without calling down upon themselves sundry applications of the maternal slipper.

THE POTTERY INDUSTRY.

The importance of the pottery industry to the United States and especially to the state of Ohio is brought out in a recent pamphlet of the United States Geological Survey. It shows that this industry is in a high state of development and that the value of its products last year was the greatest in the history of the country.

Coshocton is one of the important Ohio centers in this industry. The fame of the wares produced by the local concern is now nationwide. The steady improvement in the quality of the output of the Potteries concern is largely responsible for its reputation away from home and the steadily increasing growth and prosperity of this company. This statement is doubtless true of American pottery wares generally.

According to the author of the article in the Geological Survey, American pottery is gaining a stronger hold on the market, becoming more popular every year. Many, if not most of the best, hotels and clubs in the country are now using large quantities of domestic china.

Last year pottery to the value of $46,859,694 was consumed in the United States. Of this sum the domestic product was valued at $36,264,164 and the imported product at $10,595,530. The output of pottery for the United States in 1912 showed an increase in value of $1,085,294 over that for 1911. Every product except stoneware and yellow and Rockingham ware participated in the increase.

The variety showing the largest absolute gain was sanitary ware, which increased $876,797, and the largest proportional gain in porcelain electrical supplies, which increased $695,215. The value of white ware, including china, but excluding sanitary ware and porcelain electrical supplies, was $17,006,736 in 1912, compared with $16,424,236 in 1911. China ware showed an increase of $119,320, the value reported for 1912 being the highest ever recorded.

Ohio continued to be the leading pottery producing state of the Union, reporting wares valued at $15,508,735, or 42.49 per cent. of the total, an increase of $733,470. Ohio's principal pottery product is white ware, which represents general household wares. New Jersey was the second largest pottery producing state, the value of its products in 1912 being $8,935,920, an increase of $531,979. The principal pottery product of the state is sanitary ware.

West Virginia was third in 1912, with ware valued at $3,265,166, or $484,964 more than the value of the output in 1911. New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois were fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh, respectively, in the value of output in 1912.

The trouble with Mr. Bryan's "Dreadnoughts of Peace" is that they are too unromantic. They leave all the money that now goes to useless sea monsters in the public treasuries from which to build good roads, school houses, etc.

The government reports a dearth of goats in this country. The trouble is that most men, instead of having a goat of their own, are always trying to get the other fellow's.

"Privilege always fights hard to keep from being dispossessed," says an exchange. Well, did you ever see anyone who had something "soft" to give it up voluntarily?

The bubble cup is now denounced as unsanitary in St. Louis. In St. Louis they consider the only really sanitary way to drink is direct from pint bottles.

to the lap of Dr. McCurdy. May be Joe still has hopes of ousting the doctor or maybe he sees another plum that would be acceptable to the ex-service director. Trading In Dark.

Be that as it may, the average local politician does not need to be kicked in the neck to take notice that Mayor Bud and Joe imagine they see an opportunity to wrest the control of the executive committee from the hands of the Fisher-McCurdy-Compton crowd. Towards this end, they are making the most of the McCurdy appointment matter as well as a little dark trading in the way of endorsements for other plums soon to drop.

The Plot Thickens.

This was indicated last Saturday night, when taking advantage of the absence of Will Compton and Norman Taylor, both Fisher members of the committee, the remainder gathered and gave rather half-hearted endorsements to Lige Ringer for tax commissioner and Jim Manner for liquor license commissioner. Ex-mayor Lige has always traveled with the Fishers, while Ex-sheriff Jim has fought valiantly under the Cassingham-Manner banner for many years. This little trade, it would appear was made to put both factions in a good humor or at least a sufficient number of members to give Mayor Bud the control should he ask for an endorsement.

In the meantime, the plot thickens and The Tribune expects shortly to furnish a few inside facts of one of the biggest political schemes hatched in old Coshocton county in many a day.

A Patient Runs Amuck in Hospital

Lima, Ohio, June 17.—Leaping from his cot, Henry Bowers, 45, injured four patients in a ward at the City hospital, and fought three nurses this afternoon before he was overpowered.

Bowers seized a heavy glass and hurled it at Joseph Myers, 60, another patient, inflicting a serious scalp wound. He ran wild in the ward before the arrival of the nurses. Bowers was taken to the city jail.

Runaways in Collision With Auto

A team of horses belonging to D. C. Lawrence of Keene township figured in an exciting runaway at Hickory and Main streets Tuesday shortly after noon.

The horses took fright at a train while standing near the Pennsylvania freight station. They ran north on Hickory and turned west on Main colliding with automobiles belonging to Dr. J. W. Shaw and Jesse Hissong which were standing at the curb. The team was brought to a halt by C. B. McCauslin of the Wear-Well shoe store. The damage to the automobiles was not serious and neither horse was badly hurt.

This is the fourth runaway which has occurred recently at the junction of the two streets in the business section of the city.

DRAW OUT POISON

Marvelous Antiseptic that Draws Glass, Wood and Needles from the Flesh

There never was known such a powerful drawing ointment as San Cura. Wherever it has been used it has created astonishment. It drew a needle out of the foot of the daughter of Mrs. James Hirschcock, of Centerville, Pa., after the doctor had used his lance and failed.

Nothing so healing or antiseptic can be purchased today. It possesses so much healing virtue that it is guaranteed by Page & Lorenz to quickly cure any kind of piles, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles, ulcers, all kinds of chronic sores, chilblains, and chapped hands, or money back.

It's a mighty handy remedy to have in the house in emergencies such as bruises, burns, cuts or scalds, because it kills the pain instantly. It's a medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 25c and 50c a jar at Page & Lorenz.

BEST SKIN SOAP

Is Can Cura Soap, because of its great antiseptic and healing virtues. Use it regularly, and it will make the skin soft and velvety; will remove pimples and blackheads. It's the real soap for babies' tender skin, which mothers of infants should remember. 25 cents a large cake at Page & Lorenz.

Mail orders for San Cura Ointment and Soap filed by Thompson Medical Co., Titusville, Pa.

Marriage Don't's.

Inspired by the season, the statement that June brides are not scarce this year and the hope that his aphorisms may be useful to those prospective bridegrooms who have not chosen, Rev. R. J. MacAlpine, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church, Cleveland, Sunday evening gave a series of "don't's" in his sermon on "Choosing a Wife."

Dr. MacAlpine's aphorisms were:

1. Don't bank on mere beauty without character—it is as unreliable as the weather.

2. Don't marry a woman simply because she is talented, popular or wealthy. Without love these attainments would be as insipid as an egg without salt.

3. Don't be influenced by sentiment alone; unsupported by sound reason, like a flower, it is apt to fade before tomorrow.

4. Don't marry a girl whose common sense is no greater than her dollars and cents, as no amount of the latter can purchase the least amount of the former, you would likely soon become a hopeless insolvent.

5. Don't marry a girl who thinks more of a good time than a good name; your good time would never arrive.

6. Don't choose a young woman who is more concerned about how she looks than how she acts. She would be just as apt to break your heart as your purse.

7. Don't marry a woman your opposite in religion. Your religious beliefs are likely to outlive your love.

8. Don't marry before you are 25. Until then a man's faculty of judgment is usually not sufficiently mature to take such an important step.

9. Don't marry in haste. Consult your head as well as your heart and wait their unanimous verdict. It's a life leap. Be sure you are ready before you jump.

June, The Month Of Weddings

The pleasure of giving as well as the joy of receiving depends greatly upon the amount of thought and personality used in selecting a gift. In presenting an appropriate, well-chosen gift the idea of dollars and cents value is secondary, as it properly should be.

Now that June, the season of many weddings, is approaching it is well for those contemplating the purchase of gifts to bestir themselves and decide upon what they will give.

Let us help you in your selection.

ton, the mother of three daughters and two sons, died in 1889. One week previous to the mother's death a daughter, Martha Mayden, Holloway died and a son, Allen Marshall died in infancy. The surviving children are Thomas J. and Owen W. Marshall, of Greenwood, Neb., and a daughter, Mrs. Mary J. Barry of Euclid, Kansas. The son Thomas, was at his father's bedside at the time of his death. In 1893 Mr. Marshall was again married to Miss Hester Burrell who survives him. Three brothers, Thomas, Marshall, C. T. Marshall and Allen Marshall, and two sisters, Mrs. John Dickey and Mrs. Martin Wolford survive in this county and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McCoy of Casey, Ill., survives.

Lives Retired Life.
Since returning to Coshocton from the west in 1895, Mr. Marshall had retired to an active business life, but he was by no means content in idleness. He was a keen and careful business man, reliable and trustworthy in all his dealings and even to the last few weeks of his life maintained his interest in the affairs about his home and business.

Devoted to Church.
One of the chief characteristics of Owen Marshall's life was his devotion to his church. In his early life he was a member of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church. At the time of his death he was a staunch member of the local Church of Christ and it was through his efforts and support that the helpful ministry of the Rev. A. L. Ogden was made possible in Coshocton during the past winter. Mr. Marshall was a charter member of the Greenwood Church of Christ and was the last surviving member of the list of those who followed the second Church of Christ in the county where Greenwood is located. Even to the last few weeks of his life when he was critically ill, Mr. Marshall never lost his interest in his church and for welfare and his Christian faith sustained and kept him through the month of ill health and suffering.

Mr. Marshall was a member of the local lodge of Masons and Knight of Pythias. Previous to his return to Ohio he was a member of both lodges in Greenwood, Neb.

Burial in Nebraska.
Thursday afternoon at 1:30 there will be funeral services at the home on East Main street in charge of Rev. C. M. Burkhardt of the Church of Christ and Rev. C. L. Irwin a long friend of the deceased. The body will be taken on the 16 from Thursday night to Greenwood Neb., where services will be held Saturday with Rev. A. L. Ogden of the Christian College at Botany, Nebraska, in charge. Burial will take place in the family lot in Greenwood. The Greenwood Masonic Lodge will probably assist in the burial service.

Horse Sale at the Adams Barn

J. M. Adams yesterday received a fine lot of horses which will be offered for sale by him Friday at his stable on Chestnut and Main streets above Fifth street. The horses are all fine stock and the sale promises to be one of the best of the season.

Charge by White Slavery.
New York, June 17—Hayes Reels, 20, a charge under arrest here on a white slavery affidavit filed by the federal grand jury at Omaha, Neb., was taken to an Omaha, Neb.

Delightful Party at the Country Club

Mrs. W. N. Day's combined bridge and sewing party at the Country Club Tuesday afternoon was indeed most picturesque and charming in every detail. The affair brought together seventy-five Coshocton ladies and was given in complimenting Mrs. Day's daughter, Mrs. Harper of Spokane, Wash. and Mrs. Hammer of Maysville, Ky. who is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. R. Frederickson of South Fourth street.

Everywhere throughout the spacious club rooms and veranda were great clusters and baskets of daisies and roses that brought within some of the beauty of the fields and summer gardens, and the hunchback wreathed in roses and greenery where three attractive girls presided, being Misses Geraldine Day, Nellie Beach and Mary Agnew enchanted the eye of the guests who spent the hours sewing or playing bridge.

At five o'clock a course tea was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. C. R. Frederickson, Mrs. Carl Herbig, Mrs. William March, Mrs. Corwin McCoy, Mrs. Charles Ransom, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. Elza De Hart, Mrs. Harry Beach, Mrs. Robert Dennis, Miss Iva McCoy, Miss Rita McCoy, Little Misses Phoebe Frederickson, Sarah Anderson and Ruth Brandt.

MINE FLOODED: EIGHT DROWNED

STRIKE AT ROOT OF EVIL.

Federal Government Plans Hot Campaign Against Hog Cholera.

Washington, June 17.—Convinced in the face of the increased cost of living that something must be done to save the hog as a food animal, experts of the department of agriculture announced that they would begin a campaign July 1 to eradicate hog cholera. On that date the $75,000 appropriated by the last congress for the work will become available. The losses in hogs which succumbed to cholera last year were $60,000,000 according to the department's figures.

Previously the department conducted experiments by which it developed a serum that was a specific in cholera epidemics, but now it proposes to go to the root of the trouble and eliminate the cause.

"Because of the short supply and high prices of meats," says the department in its statement, "it is becoming imperative that something be done to check the ravages of this disease."

The first experiments will be made in Dallas county, Iowa, later in Indiana and possibly in one or two other states.

BUNKER HILL REMEMBERED

Roosevelt and Others Speak at Anniversary Celebration.

Boston, June 17.—The "biggest night before" in the history of the Charleston district preceded the booming of cannon and the ringing of bells in beginning the celebration of the 128th anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill.

Midnight speeches were made by former President Theodore Roosevelt, Secretary of the Navy Joseph Daniels and United States Treasurer Burke.

Peace policy combined with a big navy were Roosevelt's themes. "I will never," said the colonel, "consent to arbitrate national questions of vital honor and national interests. What is more, I know my countrymen will not consent."

"Uncle Sam will never arbitrate a slap in the face, and in the last resort, the navy is Uncle Sam's punch. It is not necessary for us to appeal to the supreme arbitrament of war, but it is necessary to show in times of peace the qualities which men showed who won our independence for us and founded this government."

SOCIETY ATTENDS TRIAL.

London Militants Plead Their Cause in Old Bailey.

London, June 17.—A society event was made out of the final day of the trial of the six militant suffragette leaders and one male adherent, all charged with malicious destruction of property, in Old Bailey court.

A great throng of fashionably dressed women struggled with militants and non-militants for seats. Among those present were Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of Premier Asquith, and Mrs. Winston Churchill, wife of the first lord of the admiralty.

The defendants were allowed to address the court in their own behalf, and Miss Annie Kenney, one of the "business agents" of the Women's Social and Political Union, made an impassioned and dramatic appeal. In conclusion she raised her fists above her head and shouted: "If I have got to die to get the vote, then I am willing to die right now."

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, president of the union, who was released from Holloway jail for the second time since being sentenced to three years for conspiracy, because of illness brought on by a hunger strike, was reported to be in a serious condition.

MARTINE AND MORTON CLASH

Hostilities Invade Session of West Virginia Probe.

Charleston, W. Va., June 17.—Only the intervention of Senator At-arms Higgins and Senators Swanson and Kenyon prevented an actual fist fight between Senator James E. Martine of New Jersey and Quinn Morton, national coal operator.

The senate strike investigating committee had just completed the examination of Morton, when Martine, who had been outside of the room, returned and insisted on being permitted to interrogate Morton further.

The entire morning session had been surcharged with excitement. Martine and General Watts of counsel for the operators had clashed and it required strenuous rebukes from Chairman Swanson to calm them down. Then in the middle of the interrogation of Morton on the exact cause of the trouble in the mining district, Martine had insisted on taking up Morton's presence on the team that shot up Holly Grove.

He asked whether Morton had contemplated the use of a machine gun for that purpose and demanded what his opinion was of the use of such barbarous methods to shoot up tents occupied by men and women.

Morton, in a sensational speech, couched in vitriolic language, denounced Martine as unfair. The New Jersey senator left the room only to return just before the luncheon recess. As the chairman announced the recess, Morton, addressing Martine, who was standing along side the press table, said: "I guess we had better all go down now and take a few drinks together and we will feel better."

Martine, with his heavy walking stick clutched in his right hand and his face inflamed with anger, shouldered his way through the press of attorneys and confronting the operator demanded: "What was that you said, sir?"

Morton repeated the declaration and Martine fairly shouted at the top of his voice: "I want to say to you, sir, that you are a contemptible black guard of the worst character to address such a remark to me."

Morton, who had been leaning on a table, advanced on the senator and, in equally loud terms, demanded: "Didn't you take three drinks within half an hour with me?"

Shaking his fist under the very nose of the millionaire Martine continued: "You are too contemptible for the consideration of a gentleman. You have forfeited all consideration as a decent white man."

But by that time the stalwart form of Senator Kenyon of Iowa had been interposed between the two angry men and in no uncertain language Kenyon ordered them out of the room.

CHINESE IN REVOLT.

Hatred For Missionaries Causes Uprisings in Fukien Province.

Peking, June 17.—The American legation has received a report from Hinghwa, Fukien province, in southeastern China, that a rebellion has broken out, which has taken a strong anti-Christian turn, owing to the opposition of the missionaries to the opium traffic and to their giving information to the government as to the districts in which opium is grown.

Many Chinese Christians have been killed and others have been taken prisoners and maltreated, while the churches have been despoiled.

The troops are apathetic and inactive. Failure to crush the rebellion means a general state of anarchy, the destruction of churches, the killing of Christians and the renewal of opium cultivation. The situation is regarded as serious.

Foreign missionaries in the district are all reported safe up to the present time.

LETTER CAME TOO LATE.

Told Woman of Husband's Threat Against Her Life.

Cincinnati, O., June 17.—Added impetus was given to the hunt for Attorney George Mundy, who last Saturday shot his wife after a disagreement between the couple. Mrs. Mundy died later and the police detachment in search for the man was doubled.

It has developed that a letter to Mrs. Mundy from her sister in New York, stating that Mundy had been in New York and had made threats against his wife, was received at the house where Mrs. Mundy was staying 15 minutes after the shooting.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad had refused to comply with a ruling of the state public service commission, which was upheld.

Farm Barn Burns.

Zanesville, O., June 17.—An electrical storm, which passed over the eastern end of the county relieved the intense heat in that section.
